Who you trying to kid

Take it your dad isn't man enough to admit what he says, your dad is the one kidding you

Ok dreamer. I mean come on just think about what your saying £2000 to go a burn a car out really??? Now I know for a fact I could get a car burned out for less then £50 no problem so why the fuck would me dad offer you £2000. Also if there was ever a problem between you and him face to face I can guarantee it wouldn't have gone down the way your claiming it did it's actually laughable

Was you there? Maybe the fact claiming it did it's actually laughable

Was you there? Maybe the fact it did go down that way he is embarrassed to show he's not the person he makes out to be? I can only speak about facts so, are you seriously saying he is denying it? I didn't show him my brothers back? If he wants to lie, I will tell you exactly what happened, where he collected the birds from, why i collected them instead of him delivering them and believe it or not, he threatened me over a pathetic £25 because I wouldn't pay him part delivery, to re jog his memory, this was when he was also a courier, this isn't something recent but its a fact.

Show me some proof then if it's fact show me these facts that you keep claiming.

😂😂 proof? It wasn't over the phone it was on his property. Look I can tell a detail event of what happened, he can't make a single comment as he knows I'm telling the truth, he can't deny it with a alternative

Look I can tell a detail event of what happened, he can't make a single comment as he knows I'm telling the truth, he can't deny it with a alternative explanation, because he says its not true doesn't mean he is being truthful himself, he can't back those words up so is getting his son, who wasn't there to deny it happened. If he wants to do that, then that is down to him but he knows it's true and he's a coward who is letting others lie for him.
